

TNS Launches TNS Oculus, New Online Monitoring Solution for Financial Markets Customers

Financial market traders need a sophisticated, self-running monitoring tool that allows them to view their network performance and trading activity in real-time. TNS Oculus, a new online portal provides financial markets customers visibility into their TNS services, including performance and utilization tracking. This infographic explores the key features of TNS Oculus and how this new portal will benefit market traders.

Key Features of TNS Oculus

Provides a complete inventory of all TNS extranet services and performance statistics through a single pane of glass

More information: TNS Oculus allows customers to set up alerts to notify them of errors and/or outages

Real-time insight to issues via a simple 'Hot-Spot' dashboard

Delivered in near-real time, as low as 1 minute

Utilizing the latest HTML5 technologies, TNS Oculus works in any standard web browser

Benefits to Traders

Allows easy access to data and the ability to add new users tailoring their required permissions

Exceptional alert capabilities enable customers to respond quickly to incidents and outages and project their future capacity needs with confidence

View connectivity performance, data throughput and the status of connected devices

Available Now

TNS Oculus is now available for all TNS' financial services extranet customers. Gain the benefits of real-time, self-service network monitoring along with the support of TNS' expert financial services team and managed services 24x7x365.

