

SENTINEL

Managed market data operations.

Optimize market data. Exactly where you need to be.

Control and optimize your market data environment through a fully managed platform that centralizes market data acquisition, distribution and administration across global trading operations.

Market data environments are increasingly complex. Firms must acquire, distribute and manage data across exchanges, vendors, platforms and users while maintaining performance, compliance and cost control. Sentinel removes that operational burden.

Delivered through a single partner, it centralizes the infrastructure, workflows and oversight required to run market data environments at scale. Firms gain greater visibility, stronger governance and the ability to continuously optimize market data usage and spend.

A complete solution for maximizing the value of market data – delivered as a fully managed service.

What Sentinel delivers.

For firms that need high-performance market data without the operational overhead.

Access global market data

Acquire exchange feeds and market data services without building direct exchange infrastructure.

Simplify market data environments

Consolidate the technology and processes used to acquire, manage and deliver market data.

Distribute data globally

Deliver market data consistently across trading platforms, applications and regions.

Control entitlements and governance

Manage users, permissions and exchange reporting across the organization.

Optimize market data spend

Identify unused entitlements and opportunities to reduce unnecessary market data costs.

Operate market data-as-a-service

Infrastructure, distribution and operations fully managed by Waypoint specialists.

Exactly where you need to be.

Navigating complexity with transparency.

WAYPOINT'S MARKET DATA OPERATIONS SOLUTION

Sentinel provides a comprehensive suite of market data infrastructure, distribution and operations, delivered across Waypoint's market leading trading infrastructure.

180+

exchanges connected across global trading venues.

70+

countries covered for distribution and operations.

30+

colocation sites hosting low latency data distribution infrastructure.

Infrastructure

Supporting global market data acquisition and delivery.

- Fully managed market data infrastructure
- Vendor-agnostic architecture connecting to exchanges and market data vendors
- Standardized deployments across global trading environments
- Integrated with Xpress and Radianz connectivity
- Designed to support high-volume market data environments and growing data consumption
- Monitoring and operational management delivered 24x7x365

Software Solutions

Waypoint developed solutions to optimize your market data operations and spend.

- Data Notification Manager identifies users impacted by exchange and vendor changes and help you manage required changes
- Data Usage Optimizer finds cost savings opportunities within your market data spend
- Archon offers an enterprise grade market data entitlement management system
- Web Access Control Manager provides a single portal and a single sign on experience for all of your trading applications

Operations

Operational management and continuous optimization of market data environments.

- Centralized administration of market data platforms and distribution environments
- Entitlement and permission management and analysis across users and applications
- Exchange onboarding, reporting and vendor administration
- Continuous monitoring and optimization of market data usage and entitlements
- Identification of unused permissions and optimization opportunities to reduce market data spend

Optimization

Surface and prioritize market data cost saving opportunities in real commercial terms, reducing wasted spend and delivering measurable commercial impact through ongoing optimization.

Simplify your market data environment.

Contact our global team at financial@tnsi.com or visit waytrade.net to learn how Waypoint can get you exactly where you need to be.

Navigating complexity with transparency

Fast, reliable access to the destinations and data you need.

waytrade.net